HOW MUCH DOES MOVING COST?

Plan your moving budget!

On average, setting aside $1,050 to $2,200 is a smart starting point. From there, the cost will depend on the details of your move.

Here's an overview of average prices:

- ✓ Local - Small Apartment: $500 - $900
- ✓ Local - Entire House: $900 - $1,500
- ✓ Long-distance - Montreal/Quebec City: $1,500 - $3,500
- ✓ Interprovincial - Quebec/Ontario: $2,500 - $5,000+

Because moving costs differ greatly between companies, especially during May to September, be sure to compare several quotes!

What influences the price of a professional move?

- | | |
|--|---|
|  Amount of belongings and furniture |  Number of movers |
|  Distance to be traveled |  Number of hours required |
|  Included services |  Choice of moving company |
|  Type of move and any additional services |  Moving date |

PRICING CALENDAR

The day you move directly affects your total moving cost.

Why? During peak season, hourly rates are higher, while in the off-season, there's a great potential for savings.

6 WAYS TO SCORE THE BEST MOVING PRICE!

Whenever you can, try to avoid peak season, weekends, and holidays.

Book early, because the longer you wait, the busier the best movers get and the higher the prices rise.

Declutter before your move. Sell or donate items you don't need, since fewer things mean less time and lower costs.

Request multiple quotes through our platform, because comparing is the first step to a smart move!

Ask for tailored services to get a full package while only paying for what you actually need.

Negotiate and don't be shy to ask, 'Is this your best price?'
